

B. TRANSFER POLICY

1. At the beginning of the diving season (September 1) a diver can change club affiliation without following any procedure, except to register with the new club or as unattached.
2. A diver who transfers during the season from one (1) club to another must have a written release from the current club. The national office must receive this release as well as the new registration from the new club before the diver can represent the new club in any DPC sanctioned meet. Divers may only register with a DPC registered club or as independent/unattached with a provincial section.
3. In the case of a diver who was registered originally in the season as unattached, a written release is not required to later affiliate with a club. A registration with the new club is required however to affiliate such club.
4. A diver unable to receive a written release from a club may register as an unattached diver. In this circumstance, the diver must dive unattached for ninety (90) days or until the end of the diving season (August 31), whichever comes first. The change of affiliation is effective as of the post-marked date on the request letter.
5. A diver is permitted one transfer per season.
